

Temple Meditation

Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of Israel
 We long for You, wait for You
 Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of Israel
 Heaven and earth cry out
 “May Your kingdom come, may Your will be done
 May Your kingdom come, O Sovereign One!”

Words & music by Rachel Boskey. © & (p) 2001 David’s Tent Music. (Isa.6:3; Exod.5:1; Matt.6:10)

Ancient Gates

*Se’u she’arim rasheichem
 V’yavo Melech hakavod
 Mi hu zeh Melech hakavod?
 Adonai Tzeva’ot!*

Lift up your heads, O everlasting gates
 And let the King come in, let the King come in!
 Who is this, our glorious King?
 Lord of the armies of heaven!

Lift up your heads, O everlasting gates . . .
 Do you know the name of His Son
 Or the wonders He has done?
 Do you know the name of His Son?
Yeshua ha Mashiach!

 Prov.30:4)*

You Who Fear The Lord

You who fear the Lord, come praise Him
 You who fear the Lord, come and praise
 Sons of Jacob, give Him honor
 Glory and honor to His name
 Worship Him with reverence, O sons of Israel
 Worship Him with reverence, children of Israel

*Yirei Adonai hallelu-Hu
 Kol zera Ya’akov, kabdu-Hu
 V’guru mimenu kol zera Yisra’el*

King

Am zu yatzarti li, yisapru tehilati

I created Israel for Myself, My fame to tell
 Israel, you will be a people who glorify Me
 A light for all the world to see
 And a people who glorify Me

I'm the Living God and I'm speaking to you
 I will rule over you
 With a mighty hand and a powerful arm
 I will rule over you, I will be King over you

I will judge you face to face
 And bring you to My holy place
 To My holy land, by My hand
 And you will know I am He, I am the Lord
 You will know I am the Lord

All your sin I will forgive
 In My new covenant you will live
 Your great and small, one and all
 Will know I am He, I am the Lord
 You will know I am the Lord

I'm the Living God and I'm speaking to you . . .

 Jer.31:31-34; Ezek.20:33,37-38)*

Good To Israel

Lord we bend our knees to You
 We bow before Your throne
 Lord we lift our eyes to You
 We look to You alone
 We humble ourselves beneath Your mighty hand
 We cry to You, come and heal Your land
 Come heal Your land

Raise up high a banner for all the world to see
 Make these words our holy anthem,
 "Surely God is good to Israel
 Surely God is good to Israel
 Surely You are good to Israel
 Surely You are good to Israel
 So good to Israel, You are good to Israel."

Lord we long to see the day
 When mourning will be done
 Your glory in Jerusalem
 The presence of Your Son
 He is the great High Priest
 Who sat down at Your right hand
 His blood was shed to cleanse and heal Your land
 To heal Your land

Raise up high a banner . . .

 They will shout out for joy and gladness
 For David's Anointed will rule
 All the nations in righteousness

Remove The Veil

My sight is dim and my heart is dull
My mind is darkened by iniquity
I lost the way and I cannot see
Find me Lord, lift the veil
Shine Your face on me

Remove the veil that my eyes may see
Remove the veil that hides You from me
Remove the veil that my eyes may see
Your beauty and Your glory, My Lord

Like a sheep I've gone astray
I've turned from You to my own way
But the blood You shed, spotless Lamb
Makes a way beyond the veil
And calls me back to You

Remove the veil . . .

Thanks to all those who contributed to this project with intercession, finances, hospitality, filling in for us at home, friendship and encouragement. God knows your name and address! Thanks to all the superb musicians who graced this project by their contributions. Special thanks to Avi Singolda, the intuitive poet with the golden guitar; Nimrod Elisar, drummer extraordinaire; Peter Wertheimer, a true Renaissance woodwind man; Kamal Zayid, for his thoughtful embroidery; Amir Shahs'har, a Persian shepherd with a heart like David; and Daniel Boskey, for giving us the privilege of playing with you on your first recording! Deep appreciation to Nati Patishi, who ate, breathed and slept this recording with us, weaving sensitivity and wisdom into the result.

Some of the unique instruments heard on this recording are: the ney, a Persian reed flute which rests on the upper teeth. Its sound most closely resembles a human voice. The qanun, originally an Egyptian trapezoidal zither or psaltery, consists of 75-81 strings in sets of three. The oud is an 8-stringed Arabic instrument and the father of both the lute and the guitar. The bouzouki is an 8-stringed Greek instrument with a long neck and a watermelon shaped body. The darbuka is an hourglass-shaped Middle Eastern hand drum. The daira (or da'irah or doyreh) is a Central Asian Bukharin frame drum; metal jinglets/rings are suspended on its internal frame. Copper plates are used for percussive effect in Yemenite Jewish music.

We dedicate this recording to Jacob's children – that we may all enter into our amazing destiny. And to the body of Messiah – may God plant the seed of His burning heart for the Jewish people deep within your being! This music was birthed in the Middle East, where spiritual roots go back to Eden, to Abraham, to David and to the Messiah. May you enjoy drinking water from ancient wells!
